

procedures, Roberto Perotti, institutions, spending, Treasury minister, Budget Deficits, OECD countries, Alberto Alesina, France, Hagen, Journal of Political Economy, National Bureau of Economic Research, budget procedures, legislature, budget balance, Budget Institutions, American Economic Review, United Kingdom, the Treasury, European countries, Treasury, Journal of Public Economics, American Political Science Review, procedural rules, fiscal rules, legislatures, vote, NBER Working Paper, the government, government, American Journal of Political Science, Cambridge University Press, Quarterly Journal of Economics, pork barrel projects, Von Hagen, Economic Policy, line-item veto, Yale University Press, Alesina, Advisory Council on Intergovernmental Relations, Columbia University Working Paper, Working Paper, Review of Economic Studies, hierarchical institutions, state government, Line item veto, parliamentary democracies, hierarchical procedures, fiscal conservative, fiscal discipline, multilateral negotiations, bilateral negotiations, GNP, Albert0 Alesina, Budget Institutions Alberto Alesina, Alberto F. Alesina, government purchases, the American Congress, representatives, public debts, Fiscal Institutions and Fiscal Performance, James M. Poterba, Centre for Economic Policy Research, Roberto Perotti Alesina

Budget deficits and budget institutions