Slovakia, Peko, Czechoslovakia, TIMOTHY HALL, Slovakia, Rosie Read, Katherine Vestery, Czech Republic, Bournemouth University, Ethnologia Slovaca, Anthropology, Rebecca Nash, Zdenk Uhrenk, Zdenk Salzmann, ethnographies, University of Chicago, flexibility, Czech and Slovak, Postsocialist Slovakia James Quin, Czech lands, Department of Anthropology, Czech and Slovak Republics, Charles University Prague, Primitives, Czech Society, University of Minnesota, Robo, Columbia University, Princeton University Press, Central and Eastern Europe, Socialist Czechoslovakia, Zygmunt Bauman, Cambridge University Press, Czech Nationalism, ambiguity, images of gay men, gay Marines, D. A. Miller, stereotypical images, George Mosse, Brill, East European Anthropology Group, Waveland Press, Nations and Nationalism, University of Massachusetts at Amherst, Central European University Press, ethnic group, CHANGES IN THE HEART OF EUROPE, Czech crown

Changes in the Heart of Europe: Recent Ethnographies of Czechs, Slovaks, Roma, and Sorbs