Pentazocine, diclofenac, Int J Med Health Dev, adverse effects, analgesia, post-operative pain, pain management, Nigeria, Clinical Practice Guidelines, Elie GI, Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences, Smiley R, Afrimed J, Ilorin, Nigeria, Jacobsen S. Racial and ethnic disparities, Umeobika JC, Fassett M, Am J Obstet Gynecol 2009, study center, diclofenac sodium, unconscious patients, pregnant women, VAS Score, combination group, anesthesia review, pain relief, CS pain relief, Adamou, patient preference, suppository diclofenac, VAS, diclofenac analgesia, Perrian T. Comparison, Opioid analgesics, Newel, Postoperative pain, pain treatment, Post-operative, Faculty of Medicine, Caesarian Section, Nnamdi Azikiwe University Teaching Hospital, Newel Campus, Madonna University Teaching Hospital, Obstetrics and Gynecology, Nnamdi Azikiwe University, diclofenac sodium tablets, cesarean delivery, American Society of Anesthesiologists’ Committee, Lawrence J, opioid, George Uchenna, Middle East J Anesthesiol, American Pain Society, Eisenach JC, Postoperative pain management, Caesarian section, American Society of Regional Anesthesia and Pain Medicine.

Pentazocine and Diclofenac versus Pentazocine Alone for Post-operative Analgesia in Caesarian Section.