water supply and sanitation, Millennium Development Goals, sanitation, water supply, water resources, water conservation, Millennium Project, domestic water supply, improved sanitation facilities, sanitation services, improved drinking water, developing countries, UNICEF, water and sanitation, domestic water supply and sanitation, target, United Nations Development Program, Millennium Development Goal, middle-income countries, water resources management, water harvesting, water management, water charges, improved water resources management, United Nations Development Programme, demand management, national level, improved water supplies, Development, safe drinking water, access, integrated water resources management, the United Nations, drinking water, sanitation improvements, health, dignity, and development until 2015.